

DECIDE CASES IN FAVOR OF GOVERNMENT

IMPORTANT CASES INVOLVING INCOME TAXES ARE SETTLED

Court Makes Ruling in LaBelle Iron Works Case Which Had Appealed From Ruling of Treasury Officials--Inheritance Tax Case Involves Hundreds of Millions.

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 16.—Thru decisions of the supreme court today the government won two important victories in controversies involving interpretation of income provisions of the revenue acts of 1916 and 1917.

Increased value of a capital asset could not be added to invested capital," the court ruled in the appeal of the LaBelle Iron Works, an Ohio concern from a ruling by treasury officials, but must be considered in computing the profits of the corporation on which the taxes were to be assessed.

In the other decision the court ruled that inheritance, or succession taxes paid to a state could not be deducted from the "net estate taxed under the revenue act."

The LaBelle Iron Works suit was characterized by high government officials as "the most important legal suit affecting federal finances to arise in several decades."

The specific point at issue was whether or lands in the Mesabi Range of Minnesota, purchased for $190,000 prior to 1904 could be returned by the iron company at a new valuation of $10,000,000 in 1917, the increase being covered by a stock issue and carried under invested capital.

Define Invested Capital
"We think the meaning of the act as to 'invested capital' is precisely clear," said Justice Pitney in delivering the court's decision.

It defined this term to mean (one) actual cash paid in; (two) the actual cash value at the time of payment of assets other than cash paid in and (three) paid in or earned surplus and undivided profits used or employed in the business but not to include money or other property borrowed.

"When speaking of the capital of a business corporation or partnership, such as the act deals with, 'to invest' imports a laying out of money or money's worth with a view to obtaining income or profit from the conduct of a business."

Hundreds of millions of dollars in taxes hung upon the decision, there being but few partnerships or corporations which did not have on their books an item showing material sums from appreciated value of capital assets.

Inheritance Tax Case
The inheritance tax case was brought to the supreme court by executors of the estate of the late J. Harsen Purdy of New York.

Five states had collected tax on the turnover of portions of the estate within their jurisdiction and the executors claimed that all these sums should be deducted before federal taxes on the "net estate" could be legally computed. Refusal of tax collectors to agree to this contention was upheld in turn by the treasury department and the federal courts and today by the supreme court.

The net estate contemplated in the act the opinion said, was the entire residue remaining to be distributed after the immediate charges, such as funeral expenses and debts, had been met.

SPECULATION IS ALLEGED CAUSE OF BANK CLOSING

Shortage of Arcola State Bank Said to be $400,000

(By The Associated Press.)
ARCOLA, Ill., May 16.—Speculation on the Chicago Board of Trade by a depositor who was allowed to overdraw his account was blamed today for the closing of the Arcola bank yesterday with a reported shortage of $400,000.

M. T. Quirk, president of the bank, and his son, J. S. Quirk, cashier, were being held in jail tonight because of failure to furnish $100,000 bond demanded in each case. They were charged with forgery and embezzlement.

State Examiner Closes Bank
The bank was closed by State Bank Examiner Whitlock following an examination of the books at the request of T. E. Lyons, The Quirks allowed the firm of J. R. Ernest and Son, grain dealers of Arcola and Galton, Ill., to overdraw their account $176,000. He also asserted that loans of $45,500 were made to the same firm on bad securities. This money, Mr. Lyons declared, was lost on the Chicago Board of Trade.

"The Quirks have admitted the whole thing," Mr. Lyons said. "They have turned over to us all their property, valued at approximately $100,000. The property of Ernest and Son also will be turned over to us. The depositors will not lose a penny."

ATTEMPT TO TRACE LABOR GRAFT MONEY

(By The Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, May 16.—An attempt to trace $7,500 labor graft alleged to have been paid to settle a strike on a hotel building was made today by the Dailey legislative committee investigating building conditions in Chicago.

One witness admitted the money had been paid. Another testified there had been two payments. Still another, speaking from the union point of view, admitted money had been paid, but denied the business agent named in the transaction had received the full amount.

Crane, son of a wealthy manufacturer was sentenced today to one to twenty years in the penitentiary. He was recently found guilty by a jury of having attempted to attack a 13-year old girl. Judge Thomson of the criminal court overruled a motion for a new trial.

HEAD OF RAILWAY EMPLOYEES MAKES REPLY TO ROADS

Law of Supply and Demand Means Use of Force, He Says

(By The Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, May 16.—B. M. Jewell, president of the Railway Employers' department of the American Federation of Labor today filed his final reply to the last arguments presented to the railroad labor board by the railroads in support of their plea for a general reduction of cost.

The railroads closed their case May 7. Today the board began consideration of the case in executive session a decision not being expected for several weeks.

In his statement filed today, Mr. Jewell held that in regard to the fundamental issues in the case the carriers have said nothing "beyond" declaring that questions of human rights and human standards are irrelevant.

He declared that the roads have only emphasized their financial needs. Mr. Jewell declared that in a number of exhibits the employees have shown an appeal for sympathy to be unfounded. In answer to the attack of the railroads on the exhibits entitled "Inadequacies of management" he quoted the Railway Age as estimating that the transportation industry needed $2,000,000 to put it abreast of the times. It would be a fundamental injustice, he said, if the board should grant a reduction in wages because of the present financial embarrassment of the roads.

Mr. Jewell's reply urged that unless the needs of a normal family are used as the basis for establishing a minimum wage, the tendency would be to discourage marriage or to make necessary the labor of wives and young children, or to bring about a steady deterioration of the health and moral qualities of families affected.

Most Obviate Use of Force.
Referring to the alleged attempts of the railroads to appeal to the law of supply and demand he declared "supply and demand mean the exercise of force by both sides, whereas the whole purpose of the transportation act was to obviate the use of force in railroad disputes and to have such disputes decided by the board on principles of justice and equity."

Mr. Jewell then quoted statistics to show that the United States possesses ample power of production to sustain a high general standard of living, and added, "but it is obvious that America cannot utilize these productive powers to the full unless she maintains a high standard that is to say unless in her wage decisions she allows to the workers a purchasing power that will enable them to go into the markets and buy the things which a high standard of living requires."

"America with a productive capacity of about one hundred billion dollars worth of wealth per year, it would seem should not need to hesitate in a decision as to whether or not she can afford her people 'the living wage,'" he concluded.

CRANE IS GIVEN
PRISON SENTENCE
Chicago, May 16.—Herbert P. Crane, son of a wealthy manufacturer was sentenced today to one to twenty years in the penitentiary. He was recently found guilty by a jury of having attempted to attack a 13-year old girl. Judge Thomson of the criminal court overruled a motion for a new trial.

TELL OF EXTREMES TO WHICH MEN GO FOR STRONG DRINK

Everything from Patent Medicines to Perfumes Used

(By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, May 16.—The extremes to which some men go to satisfy the craving for strong drink since the country went dry shocked the house judiciary committee today at a hearing on the Volstead bill to make the prohibition enforcement law more drastic.

Representatives of manufacturers of flavoring extracts, patent medicines and perfumes protesting against added restrictions which they claimed would interfere with their business, were outspoken in opposition to medicinal beer and the sale of concoctions, masquerading as medicine but used as beverages. The story of the man who became drunk after drinking hair tonic, Jamaica ginger and similar things crept in constantly during examination of witnesses.

In a list of more than 100 products branded as "booze medicine" some old bottles on the shelves of country drug stores for more than half a century were paraded before the committee and denounced by spokesmen for proprietary medicine associations, who declared they had begun medicating alcohol used in their preparations long before the eighteenth amendment.

Many Clashes During Day
There were frequent clashes. Nobody said a word in favor of beer. The patent medicine men told Mr. Volstead that so far as they were concerned he could go as far as he liked with that once popular drink, but they did not agree with his plan to prevent the use of wine as an alcoholic base for any remedy.

Charles D. Joyce, president of the Flavoring extract association, declared no man had ever been able to drink lemon extract in sufficient quantity to make him drunk and live to tell the tale.

He was asked if he knew anything of the practice of taking the fire out of extract thru a piece of bread which soaked it up like a sponge, but he had never heard of it. Nor had he ever heard of Jamaica ginger drinking friends, he added.

"Well, I've seen droves of them," said Chairman Volstead, after Medical Bootlegger.

Everybody wanted to get rid of the medical bootlegger, some suggesting that his products be taxed if he could not be suppressed. Representative Hill, Republican, Maryland, who has introduced a bill to repeal the Volstead law, urged an amendment which would put prohibition enforcement squarely in the hands of the attorney general.

"If you are trying to repeal the Volstead act, why so solicitous about its enforcement?" asked Representative Tillman, Democrat, Arkansas.

"As long as we have that law, it ought to be enforced," he declared. "But when you have a law that is a national joke because of non-enforcement, it is calculated to bring all laws in contempt."

While the present Volstead law was being shot at and defended members of the committee claimed that it was not so drastic as Illinois and Maine prohibition statutes.

REVERSE DECREES OF GEORGIA STATE COURT IN BANK CASE

Sends Case Back to District Court for Another Hearing

(By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, May 16.—The supreme court reversed today decrees of Georgia courts which had refused to enjoin the federal reserve bank at Atlanta from collecting checks drawn on non-member state banks and the case was remanded to the lower courts for further proceedings.

As the issue was merely whether, as a matter of pleading, the plaintiff's bill of complaint stated a cause of action, the decision was not a final determination and the case will go back to the district court of the Northern District of Georgia.

The plaintiffs asserted that in order to enforce its policy of par collection of checks the Atlanta reserve bank planned to hold the checks of small non-member banks until they reached a material size and then to demand payment "in cash across the counter" and to utilize other methods which would necessitate the non-member banks keeping always on hand a sum out of all proportion to their capital.

Such methods, they said would force them to close their doors or to join the federal reserve system. A suit for an injunction to restrain the reserve bank from proceeding along these lines was brought but was dismissed when the Georgia court sustained a demurrer of the federal reserve bank. An appeal was then taken to the supreme court.

DEATH OF EMPRESS MAKES NO CHANGE IN DAILY ROUTINE

Former Kaiser Continues His Wood Chopping and Reading

(By The Associated Press.)

DOORN, Holland, May 16.—The death of former Empress Augusta Victoria has wrought no radical change in the former kaiser's daily routine. He continues his wood chopping, reading and inspection of the Doorn estate.

Frequently he takes short strolls during the early morning. The former emperor receives fewer visitors than previously and suffers spells of melancholy during which he flees from company.

Former Crown Prince Frederick William arrived here today to visit his father for the first time since the death of Augusta Victoria. This morning Whitsuntide services were held in memory of the former empress.

TRAIN WRECKERS AT WORK ALONG ALTON

Find Evidence of Deliberate Attempt to Derail Hummer Sunday Night at Shirley.

(By The Associated Press.)

Bloomington, Ill., May 16.—Further evidence that the wreck of the Chicago and Alton Hummer Sunday night was a deliberate attempt to derail the flyer was obtained today from officials of the Alton after a thorough inspection of the scene. They found that pins and crotters from the switch bar had been chiselled off and the rods connecting the switch had been removed.

The distant signal some six thousand feet to the north of the siding had also been tampered with. From the fact that the records in the office of the signal engineer, Rymer, show that the signals were inspected and found to be in good order on Saturday the detectives and officials feel certain that their theories are correct.

No Clues of Guilty Parties
As yet however, no clues have been gained which may result in the apprehension of the guilty parties.

The wreck of the Hummer Sunday night, the destruction by fire on Sunday night of the interlocking tower at Sudduth and the removal of spikes and angle bars from the main track at Pontiac all serve to strengthen the belief among the investigators that a gang of train wreckers are busy along the Alton line.

SAYS NITRIC ACID WAS DUTY FREE

Washington, May 16.—Federal court decrees holding that quantities of nitric acid imported by the Acton Explosives company from Canada during the war were entitled to entry without payment of duty were affirmed today by the supreme court.

SHOTS ARE FIRED ON RAWL MONDAY FOR FEW MINUTES

Otherwise Situation Is About Same Along the Line

(By The Associated Press.)

WILLIAMSON, W. Va., May 16.—Firing on the Crystal Black Coal company headhouse at Rawl, W. Va., broke out early tonight and lasted a few minutes according to a report received by Captain J. R. Brockus, at state police headquarters. It was the first disorder reported today in the Kentucky-West Virginia border trouble zone. The shots were fired, Captain Brockus said, from the Kentucky mountains.

Shortly before the report was received Captain Brockus had sent a message to Governor Morgan at Charleston, saying that all was quiet but that the situation was "distinctly the same all along the line."

An Associated Press correspondent had traversed the trouble zone from Rawl to Sprigg with Captain Brockus and a detachment of state police an hour earlier without hearing a shot. Evidences of the recent battles were plentiful at Rawl, Merrimac and Sprigg. Houses and stores were riddled with bullets and windows, mirrors and show cases were shattered.

Woman Doing Her Bit
A pretty young woman in a silk dress and a black picture hat was around "doing her bit" with the miners at Merrimac, who have been battling with men concealed in the Kentucky mountains opposite here. She is Mrs. Rosa Cline, wife of G. C. Cline, mine foreman for the White Star Coal company and is a member of the Kentucky McCoy family of Hatfield-McCoy feud fame.

While Captain Brockus and his men were present, Cline ordered a train of coal run from the mine to the tipple. This, he said, was drawn first from the Kentucky hills every day since Thursday. As the little train rumbled from the mine with the motormen lying prone Mrs. Cline, rifle ready and bandoliers of ammunition slung over her shoulder, calmly took up her position with forty riflemen, prepared to answer any attack.

No attack was forthcoming, but Cline declared proudly that his wife had taken part in answering every attack made on the town.

Non-Union Miners Moving
Forty non-union miners employed by the Stone Mountain Coal corporation at Mattewan, W. Va., began to move from the district today according to Superintendent P. J. Smith. He said the miners had been ordered to leave by supporters of the United Mine Workers. Robert Gilmore, national organizer of the union, denied that such orders had been issued with union sanction.

Captain Brockus obtained warrants this afternoon charging with felonious assault, William Damron whom he said was secretary of the United Mine Workers local at Naugatuck, and two other men alleged to have beaten severely two non-union miners near there last night. This is the first disturbance reported west of Williamsburg.

PEGGY HOPKINS WANTS PALTRY $10,000 MONTH

Chicago, May 16.—Margaret Hopkins Joyce, known on the stage as "Peggy" Hopkins, filed a cross bill for separate maintenance in superior court today against her third husband, James Stanley Joyce, Chicago lumberman.

His bill was for annulment of their marriage which he charged took place two days before his wife was granted a divorce from her second husband, Philbrick Hopkins, an attorney of Washington, D. C. She denied all charges of misconduct made by Joyce.

Mrs. Joyce also asked a bill of injunction preventing her husband from having her "hounded" by detectives or from molesting her. She also asked for $10,000 a month temporary alimony and secured her husband's annual income was a million dollars.

OLD ISSUES STATES CAUSES IN HEARINGS

Washington, May 16.—The old issue of states rights caused a clash today during senate post-office committee hearings on the Townsend good roads bill, the proposal to create a federal highway commission to supervise construction of an interstate highway system being attacked by Senator Heflin, Democrat, of Alabama, who declared it meant "the death knell of government aid to state roads."

NAVAL BILL UNABLE TO MAKE HEADWAY IN FACE OF OPPOSITION

Advocates of the Borah Proposal for Disarmament Make a Stiff Fight and Hold Up $500,000,000 Measure—Borah Says That it is Holding Up Soldier Relief Legislation

(By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, May 16.—The $500,000,000 naval appropriations bill was unable to make headway against the tide of opposition from advocates of the Borah proposal for disarmament conference and reduction in appropriations. Lengthy addresses by Senators Pomerene, Democrat, Ohio, and LaFollette, Republican, Wisconsin, prevented any amendments from being reached. It was expected that disposition of amendments would probably be begun late tomorrow.

Both Senators Pomerene and LaFollette declared that great expenditures now were unnecessary and, in view of the condition of the treasury and the country, inexpedient. Senator Pomerene supported the Borah amendment and also advocated one of his own to clothe the president with authority to suspend capital ship construction for six months.

Senator LaFollette declared the navy building program was a "waste of the people's money." The capital ships would become obsolete in five years, he said, adding that with the development of aircraft, submarines and sea coast defenses the United States would be impregnable from attack by any power or combination of powers.

Senator Pomerene said that rejection of the Borah amendment would "practically close the door of hope of the world for disarmament."

The demands for disarmament finally caused Senator Pomerene, Republican in charge of the bill, to state that no information had been submitted to show any extravagances in the proposed naval purchases.

Senator Pomerene replied that when "officers with gold lace whippersnaps" members of the naval committee had hysteria and voted for large appropriations.

Holding Up Soldier Relief
Senator Borah interjected that military expenditures were holding up projects like soldier relief, western reclamation and other developments. In his criticism of the bill Senator LaFollette said "great financial interests" desired a powerful navy to protect their interests. He introduced an amendment providing that none of the American war craft should be used to coerce or compel collection of any private claim, grant or concession.

The Wisconsin senator scored those who he said had voted to curtail hospital appropriations for former service men. He also declared that "obstructive tactics" were being used to delay the soldier bonus bill. Referring to recent charges by Senator Walsh, Democrat, Massachusetts, of neglect of war veterans in hospitals, Senator LaFollette said they constituted an indictment of the government.

General economic conditions and the difficulties encountered in the federal war time operations of the carriers, he added, were large factors responsible for present difficulties and he expressed confidence that private ownership would justify financially and work out under present law and government policy.

Chairman Cummins, of the committee, had expressed the opinion that the railroads cannot last if 1920 returns from operation are to continue an opinion agreed in by Julius Kruttschnitt, chairman of the Southern Pacific board, the first witness heard.

Policy Gives Confidence
Mr. Willard said the government policy of insuring a 5-1-2 percent return has given investors confidence in the ultimate outcome of operations.

He defended vigorously the increased freight rates now in effect, citing statistics on comparative costs of moving wheat from Argentina and from Kansas to New York.

Federal operation had resulted in turning back forty per cent of the freight rolling stock in bad order, he said, due to under-maintenance orders necessitated during the war but continued thereafter. The allowable percentage of bad order cars should be about four per cent he explained.

Statistically Mr. Willard undertook to show that private operation during the last nine months of 1920 and down to date had justified itself by the expenditure movement of record-breaking quantities of freight.

SAYS STATEMENT IS JUST BLUFF

Washington, May 16.—The statement of Joseph P. Griffin, president of the Chicago board of trade, that the board may withdraw from business if the bill passed by the house to regulate dealings in grain futures becomes a law, was characterized today by Representative Tinker, Republican, Kansas, author of the measure as a "bluff."

"This is an attempt on the part of the grain exchange to tell Congress what it can and cannot do," Mr. Tinker said.

A University of Illinois professor has figured that the world war cost all the nations $208,000,000,000. The figures as to war costs seem to vary, but one thing is certain, the people of the nations involved are going to pay the war cost bill and it will take them a mighty long time to do it.

If faith in Jacksonville instead of "doubt" will result in more industries and greater population, the plan is certainly worth trying. But perhaps it would be just as well to remember that "Faith without works is dead."

Think of a brewery representative appearing before the Volstead committee to ask that the law be strengthened instead of weakened! Yet that very thing happened down in Washington the other day. This particular brewery has built up a profitable business in soft drinks and now does not want that business destroyed by laxity in rulings which will permit other breweries to manufacture and sell real beer.

GOOD ROADS PROGRAM

Now that Gov. Small has signed Holiday bill No. 440 the road building program of the state should take on new impetus. This law permits counties to bid for road contracts and the state to enter into contract with the counties when their bids are the lowest. Since the bill also gives the state power to buy materials, supplies and tools and to advance funds to counties for road construction or for the purchase of gravel pits, stone crushers or cement plants, there is going to be some activity among the material men.

Gov. Small is genuinely interested in the hard roads program and will no doubt be able to show to the "good roads at any cost" people that there will be no serious delay in the road building program and that a big saving will be affected for the taxpayers.

A LAWYER OF SEASONED JUDGMENT

The Republicans of this district have reason for pride in the fact that Claude E. Chipherfield of Canton is the party candidate for the high office of supreme court membership. Judge Chipherfield, who was admitted to the practice of law in 1891, has had legal and judicial experience which qualifies him in an especial way for the post that he is seeking.

After serving for a number of years as judge of a court of record in Minnesota, he returned to Illinois in 1897 and with the passing of a few years became one of the leading practitioners in the central and western parts of Illinois. As district attorney, as referee in bankruptcy and as an attorney with wide practice, today he is a lawyer of large experience and seasoned judgment.

Aside from his professional standing, Judge Chipherfield has the equally important qualification of character stability. Those who know him most intimately can testify to the ruggedness of his honesty and his high ideals of personal conduct. Judge Chipherfield deserves the earnest support of the thinking men and women voters of this county and district.

WHEAT PROFIT PROSPECTS.

Talking about the great wheat crop the New York Journal of Commerce, says:

Not unnaturally, the recent government estimate (based on May 1 condition) of a 630,000,000 bushel wheat crop has raised in some minds the question what such an addition to our grain supply portends, particularly for the farmer. The "carry-over" from last year's crop is large and the market relatively weak. The situation, however, is by no means altogether what it might seem at first glance to be. The world's supply of breadstuffs is inadequate to real needs as judged by pre-war standards of consumption. The high costs of existing stocks and the low purchasing power of many peoples have, for the present at least, greatly reduced consumption.

Whether the farmer (if the estimated field actually materializes) will find himself in possession of large supplies of grain which cannot be marketed at a profit or even for cost depends upon a number of circumstances. Planting expense was in many cases probably relatively great. Prospects for economical harvesting are, however, bright. Transportation charges are still high, but a reduction in this item is at least a possibility. Should the cost of placing a bushel of wheat or a barrel of flour in the hands of the consumer soon reach a reasonable level there is no reason to suppose that the wheat grower will not be able to realize a profit on his crop. To the extent that favorable weather conditions are responsible for a large yield, the cost per unit of output will naturally be lower.

European demand is also greatly dependent on the state of business prosperity there. Settlement of the reparations question should have a wholesome effect upon the industries of Europe generally. Tariff duties on foreign wheat will not help the farmer, but anything that the federal government may be able now to do in the way of promoting a return to normal political and economic conditions abroad should prove of direct benefit to our agricultural interests.

BEAM AT HIGH SCHOOL IS SOLID

Test Conducted at New Building Monday Morning—Met Every Requirement.

A test to determine the strength of a supporting beam in the new high school building was made Monday morning. The test was in the presence of the board of education, the representatives of the Caldwell Engineering Co. and English Bros., who have the contract for the building. The story had been circulated at various times that this beam was somewhat out of alignment and was not in accordance with contract specifications. The beam has a span of 22 feet and girth dimensions of 13x26 inches. The weight of 83,000 pounds was placed upon the center of the beam, representing a distributed weight of 20,000 pounds. With this weight the beam was deflected .035 of an inch. When the weights were removed the beam returned to the original position.

As a result of this test all present were thoroughly satisfied that the beam complies with all necessary conditions and that the construction is a completely straight. The law specifies the weight that a beam of this kind in a school building shall support and the test gave proof that the points of the law are fully covered. Everything was done to insure the completeness and accuracy of the test.

Among those present for the test were J. P. Lippincott, Dr. Carl E. Black and George S. Rogerson of the board and John Wolke representing the board. S. L. Miller, of the Caldwell Engineering Co., H. H. Padfield, supt. of construction for English Bros., T. J. Strong, superintendent for the architect, and L. M. Beal of Champaign, a special representative of English Bros., here to assist with the test.

MISS LA RUE WILL WED BENJAMIN F. LANE

Engagement of Two Well Known Young People Made Known Monday—Marriage to Be in June.

At an informal company given last night at the home of Miss Cornelia LaRue, 735 West North street, announcement was made of her engagement to Mr. Benjamin F. Lane, Miss LaRue entertained a few girl friends and it was in a flower guessing contest that the interesting announcement was made.

Miss LaRue, who is a graduate of Knox College, has been a resident of Jacksonville for the past five years. Since completing a course in music at the Conservatory Miss LaRue has been in teaching work and has a studio at Beardstown. This bride-to-be is a member of Grace M. E. church and is a young woman whose best friends know her as in every way admirable.

Mr. Lane, who is a son of Mrs. E. A. Lane of Scott county, came to Jacksonville as a student in Illinois college and is accounted among the well known alumni of that institution. Following his graduation Mr. Lane was on the news staff of the Journal and was serving as city editor when he resigned to go into business for himself. For the past five years he has been the proprietor of the Lane book store, which has had a gratifying growth and he is now counted among the successful business men of the city.

Mr. Lane has also found time for some musical study and so he and Miss LaRue have musical tastes in common.

It is understood that the marriage of these two well known young people will take place some time in June.

Monday Conversation Club Holds Annual Open Meeting

Yesterday afternoon at the lovely home of Mrs. F. H. Rowe, on West State street, was held the annual open meeting of the Monday Conversation club. Each member had invited a guest and there were about forty ladies present.

A very interesting program was given in charge of Mrs. W. A. Fay. "Our Debt to the Old World" was the topic of the discussion which was both instructive and interesting. It was a comparative study of modern American literature with that of Europe. Mrs. Fay brought out the characteristics of each, and wherein we owe much to the literature of other lands. Miss Horsburgh, of Illinois Woman's college faculty, accompanied by Miss Louise Miller, played some charming violin selections. After the program delicious afternoon tea was served. The Rowe home was bright with spring flowers, and everything contributed to make this open meeting a delightful affair. The committee in charge of the meeting included Miss R. Neville, Mrs. U. G. Woodman, Mrs. L. E. Johnston and Mrs. Mary Anderson.

ORGANIZED TO AID THE IRISH REPUBLIC
Group of Speakers Told Audience at K. of C. Hall About the Need and the Plan of Work.
At a mass meeting held Sunday afternoon at Knights of Columbus hall, an organization was effected in behalf of the Irish republic. This organization will co-operate with the American Association for the recognition of the Irish republic. A number of Springfield men were present to make addresses and explain the objects of the association. In the group were Hon. James M. Graham, Thomas J. Condon, Rev. Father Fennessey and Joseph Farris.
The officers chosen were as follows:
President—P. J. Lonergan.
First vice president—James Harrigan.
Second vice president—John Clary.
Third vice president—Mrs. W. H. Mason.
Secretary—Miss Anne C. Harmon.
Assistant secretary—Mrs. M. D. Shanahan.
Treasurer—Edward Brennan.
Four Men Speak.
Mr. Clary was chairman of the afternoon and introduced the speakers, all of whom were from Springfield. Joseph Farris was the first speaker. He explained the purposes and objects of the meeting, briefly and effectively. He left details of the situation to the following three speakers:
Attorney Thomas J. Condon explained why the Irish Republic should receive recognition. He referred to Woodrow Wilson's points that the small nation should be governed by the will of the people. He mentioned the recent recognition of Poland and other European countries, without distinct boundary lines even today.
Furthermore, he alleged that England, Lloyd George especially, is trying to divide Ireland so as to influence elections. Attorney Condon pointed out divisions of counties from north to south, an attempt, he said, to defeat the will of the people.
These facts were brought out more fully by Hon. James M. Graham, principal speaker of the meeting and one of the leading friends for the Irish cause in this portion of the United States. He declared that 85 per cent of the Irish favor a republican form of government, an 84th in other countries 55 per cent of the population decides what form of government it desires to live under.
Sympathy in U. S.
Mr. Graham also mentioned the intellectuality of the Irish people. In early centuries, he said, Ireland's schools were her pride. Students from other countries were enrolled in Irish institutions. England's acquisition of Ireland brought a difference. Education in Ireland has been held down by England, Mr. Graham said, for political reasons. An attempt to educate the Irish meant trouble with England.
The speaker expressed hope that the United States will officially recognize the Irish Republic. He explained that no armed intervention is wanted, but that the most desired thing is recognition of official nature.
Rev. Father Fennessey was the fourth and last speaker of the meeting. Rev. Father Fennessey visited in Ireland slightly more than a year ago, and had numerous instances to tell of brutality to lovers of freedom, especially to women. He declared that more than 50 per cent of Americans sympathize with the Irish cause, and for that reason this country should recognize the Irish republic.

EX-ADJUTANT GENERAL MUST SALUTE NEW SUPERIOR OFFICER
Capt. James Basa of Santa Fe, former adjutant-general of the New Mexico National Guard, is now likely to be kept busy saluting his superior officer, Mrs. Basa, now a full fledged major in the military organization, formerly headed by her husband. The new adjutant-general, upon taking office, found Mrs. Basa performing the duties of stenographer. It didn't take him long to discover that she was not only a first-class stenographer, but knew a bit more about running the office than anyone else. So there was nothing to do but to make her assistant adjutant-general with the rank of major.

FLOYD WILLIAMSON MARRIED IN EAST
Jacksonville Young Man Weds Miss Gertrude Small in New York City.
Floyd Williamson of this city and Miss Gertrude Small of New York City were married in that city last Saturday. A telegram received by Mr. Williamson parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Williamson, told of the marriage but did not give the details.
Mr. Williamson for a time was a student at Illinois college and then at Lombard university. After leaving college he was on the staff of the Journal for a time and from this city went to the Register in Springfield. It was there that he began his connection with the Associated Press. His work has been so successful that one promotion followed another rapidly. Following a period of service in the navy he returned to the Associated Press and was in the Chicago office. He was sent east during the national campaign and for a number of months past has been in the New York office of the organization, holding an important position.
Mrs. Williamson was in Jacksonville last summer for several weeks and those who met her at that time remember her as a very charming young woman.

THE DEBT OF CITIZENS TO THEIR CITY

Dr. Thomas Smith Declares
Faith in City Essential for Its Growth.

At Westminster church Sunday night Dr. Thomas W. Smith had for his theme "Our Personal Debt to the City." It was a sermon emphasizing the responsibility of citizenship and raising the question as to whether or not the citizens of Jacksonville themselves are not at fault because the years have not shown material growth.

The text was John 4:23: "Others have labored and ye are entered into their labor." Some paragraphs from the sermon are presented.

The Making of a City.

From the day in 1825 when one of the first settlers drove a stake in the prairie at what is now our Central park, then broke a bottle of whiskey over the stake and said "This shall be called Jacksonville"—from that hour there have been poured into this town the labors of thousands of men and women.

Churches and colleges have been planted in faith and supported in toil and sorrow, prayers and sacrifices. Into the institutions of culture have passed the disinterested gifts and labors of thousands of consecrated men and women. From their walls have gone forth thousands of boys and girls to carry the torch of learning and of Christianity to other parts of the country and to the ends of the earth.

So with parks and playgrounds. No city has the excitement of the foresight and enthusiasm of large minded men and women. It does not discount the philanthropy to say that the people generally pay for all they get. Never would they have opportunity to get these breathing places and beauty spaces but for the men of wide vision who have gone before.

Once more, think of the moral atmosphere of this city. Was it not the men and women who insisted that the very first log hut should also be erected—was it not these who set the standard? What do we owe to the generous hearts who have for ninety years been fostering the ideals of Jesus? It was true that in the early days there was much sectarian rivalry if not bitterness between various church societies that got foothold in the community. Dr. Sturtevant tells in his autobiography of the sad quarrels and bickerings. Yet out of the early plantings have grown the trees that have borne twelve manner of fruits for the feeding of this community.

The Methodists were the most numerous at the very start and then the Presbyterians came a close second.

The Religious Life.

Then came the Sunday schools. Ministers, missionaries, Christian laymen and women—not one in a thousand is historically famous or lives in marble or bronze. We must go to the old musty records to learn of their sacrifices. The very halls and churches in which they taught and prayed have largely been obliterated. Yet their labors lay the foundation of all purity and happiness that is in this city today.

Do not misconstrue me. It is the steady effort of the churches today that keeps upon the fountain of things pure and life giving in all these homes. If they should cease today, all the heroic service of the past decades would not save this city from going to perdition. But it is the investments of ninety years that give us a road head for today. But for the accumulations of ages we should sink out of sight if these accumulations were blotted out.

All Christians of this community at their utmost could not replace them, plants, endowments and ideals. We subsist upon the victories of thousands who rest from their labors. "Others labored and ye are entered into their labors."

Whoever comes to this city finds a spiritual heritage awaiting him. As Jehovah said to the children of Israel, "I gave you a land whereon they had not labored, and cities where they had not built."

Every city is a heritage that is fraught with crisis. Jesus lived in a day of crisis—with most all the population in Palestine congregated in cities. At the beginning of his ministry. All the city was gathered together. At the close "All the city was stirred saying, Who is this? He went from this city to that city. Where the most people were found there He was found. He was condemned in a city, crucified and buried near the city. The first mighty work of Pentecost began in a city. The Gospel laid its grip first of all on the cities. Paul was commanded after his conversion to "Arise and go into the city" God said to Corinth, "I have much people in this city" Paul's second missionary journey was to "visit the brethren in every city." We can not doubt that Christ if come in the flesh would go first of all to the vast crowds in the cities. He had no municipal program for any city, no sociological theory to advocate. But he laid down great principles that feed all communal life with spiritual bread.

In the last week of his life every evening he went out of the city into the country and in the morning He came back from the country into the city just as thousands do today in our great cities. But how different was the purpose of Jesus! He went out to the country to get something to take back into the city while modern suburbanites come into the city to get something to take back into the country. Jesus spent his nights in prayer in quiet places that he might have the bread of life to impart to the crowds. So he said to his disciples "Go ye into the city" and "Tarry ye in the city" because he knew that the cities were fraught with great crisis.

Every City Has a Mind if Not a Soul.

The mind of a great city is complex and sometimes hard to read. But the mind of a small city or town is generally easier to determine. It is the spiritual composite of the dominant leaders of the city. So it was of Jerusalem, a mind of pride and stubbornness in Jesus' day. "O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, how often would I have gathered thy children together as a hen gathereth her chickens under her wings and ye would not." The leaders of the civic life were terribly conservative if not actual boodlers. They were determined against demagogues who had caused such a furor.

These blind leaders of the blind had the city in their grip. They had tied to the graves of the prophets were extinguished. They were sunk into sloughs of inertia and self-complacency. With a voice choking with tears Jesus said, "If thou hadst known even thou in this day the things that belong to thy peace—but how they are hit from thy eyes."

Has Jacksonville a soul, an intelligent, alert soul that knows where it pertains to its highest prosperity? Its citizens have many clubs that study art, science, literature and the geography that circles the globe? Does Jacksonville know where its own psychology is wrong. Mistakes have been made but the heritage is not ruined. Inertia may have retarded the growth of the population but what caused the inertia?

Why Not Growth?

Was this city destined to be like the burning bush that Moses saw—forever burning and giving forth light, never being consumed and yet never getting any larger?

Is it intended of God to be to the end of time a nursery growing young plants that are to be transplanted to other communities to enrich them with their vigor and fruitage? Any one who knows the assets of a community knows this is almost like a man giving a pint of his blood every week—how could the man grow strong and vigorous? A normal American city in this Mississippi valley doubles its population every twenty years. If we were a city of 12,000 forty years ago, we should have 48,000 today?

This terrible drainage of young life out of Jacksonville has been going on for these forty years. Too many of the youthful brains that attempt big things have gone to more congenial centers to attempt them. Is this because the soul of this community is too sluggish? We know that Nazareth had a bad psychology. Even Jesus could not change it. "He could do no mighty work there because of their unbelief." He therefore went forth to Capernaum. There he found open minds and there he could do wonders.

There was a movement, displacement, Has it occurred to you that that is precisely the reason why many of Jacksonville's finest young men and women emigrate?

"So many of the dominant minds of this city have believed that no very great things could be done here. Is that why so much of the capital is sent out of the city for investment? It is an easy and comfortable place in which to live, everyone agrees. But people who grapple with big American problems and achieve progress are not looking for easy and comfortable berths.

"In the center of the park I can see a great flag pole and upon the waving banner the words 'I doubt'." If we could but supplant it with a new banner, 'I believe' there is no end to possibilities. If this city can get a change of heart as has been brought about in so many conservative centers, then a new faith in itself and a new boldness of understanding will be witnessed. The founders of this city were men of faith and daring, so must the developers be."

LAFAYETTE RICE IS BOILED OF BIG SUM

Holdup men Sunday night secured $60 from Lafayette Rice, colored, when they entered the Rice home on West Dunlap street and at the point of a revolver compelled him to tell the whereabouts of his money. According to Rice's story, late Sunday night there came a knock at his door and when he opened it two men, one of them masked, came into the house.

The intruders pointed a revolver at Rice and demanded that he hand over his money. Rice directed the burglars to his trousers which were hanging on a nearby chair, and after a hurried search of the pockets the men left with $60. One pocket which contained a goodly sum of money was overlooked by the men. According to Rice he will be able to identify one of the burglars. The theft was reported to the police department but as yet no clues have been found.

BIRD DAY AT LIBRARY

Bird day at the public library on Saturday proved so popular that it bids fair to become an annual event. The big children's room seemed like birdland itself, with the many large and finely colored pictures and strings of red and blue paper birds decorating the room and (apparently) flying in at the windows. Many children enjoyed Mrs. Langton's charming talk on the many birds now such welcome visitors. The children also told of their bird neighbors, and it would almost seem as if every child in Jacksonville had a robin in his apple tree or a wren in his bird house.

Four splendid bird houses were exhibited and the prize, Reid's Bird Guide, was awarded to Elbert Seibert for the best finished box shown.

Elizabeth Porter Clarke, Librarian.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Duffner received a dispatch yesterday morning announcing the death of Mrs. Dan Mahoney of Dayton, O. Mr. Mahoney is a brother of Mrs. Duffner and his wife was a daughter of Governor Cox, late candidate for president. No particulars were given.

On the Woman's College campus the evening of May 21st, the Dramatic club will present Prunella, or Love in a Dutch Garden, a three-act play by Lawrence Housman and Granville Baker. The scene is laid in a quaint Dutch garden, where a winsome little maid lives with her three aunts, who guard her carefully from the wiles of the world. A wandering Pierrot with his gay, frolicsome band of mimmers, chances to look through the hedge of the garden, and straightaway loses his heart to the maid, Prunella.

AEROPLANE IN DOWNWARD PLUNGE

Burl May Had Jaw Broken and Suffered Minor Injuries—Pilot Hutson Escaped With Scratches

As a result of an accident to the Hutson Bros. aeroplane, Burl May, hydro-therapist at Jacksonville State hospital, suffered a dislocated jaw together with bruises Sunday afternoon. When the plane was only about 30 feet above the treetops certain air currents met, drew it down and the momentum was not sufficient to prevent its return to the ground. Gay Hutson was the pilot and the flight which resulted in the accident was one made after a series of earlier and successful trips.

When the aeroplane struck the ground, Mr. May's face was forced against the woodwork, his jaw was dislocated and he received numerous bruises. Mr. Hutson escaped with only a few scratches. Neither of the men was thrown from the machine.

The accident was one that would have happened with any machine under similar air circumstances and no blame in any way attached to the pilot. The propeller of the plane was badly damaged, as was one of the wings. Mr. Hutson thinks it will be necessary to secure a new propeller as the one in the damaged machine is practically beyond repair.

MANY RESERVATIONS FOR CIVIC DINNER

Continue to Come Into Headquarters Monday—Questions Will Be Answered—Questions Modern Chamber of Commerce.

With the arrival of the afternoon mail yesterday, reservations for the civic dinner, to be given on Thursday evening, at the Central Christian church, under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce, continued to come. Reservations indicate that there will be a good crowd and that many women will be present.

Edward F. Trefz of Chicago, a man of national and international reputation, and an orator of unusual ability, will be the principal speaker at the dinner. As one of the members of the civic dinner committee said in the session of that committee today meeting to check up on the final arrangements for the big dinner, "this is just another means of presenting to the citizens of the city a wide, general understanding of the movement impossible to be secured in any other way." Chairman R. Y. Rowe, in commenting on the plans yesterday, said: "The more people this story can be told to, the greater the success of this movement will be for the conservative and practical methods involved will commend themselves to anyone to whom they are presented."

The occasion will in a sense mark the end of the so-called educational work in the organization movement and will signalize the opening of the actual drive which starts next Monday.

Interest in the organization movement is assuming definite proportions and those who have volunteered to help put it over are buckling down to the task of making it a one hundred per cent success. A good start was made in this direction when there was a hundred per cent attendance of the majors and captains at the meeting yesterday at the Dunlap hotel. A splendid group of leading business and professional men took part in the selection of lieutenants who will formally open next Monday. Already many of the captains have reported that they had seen their lieutenants and had secured their pledge to serve in connection with this forward movement in building a modern, efficient, and working chamber of commerce for Jacksonville. The captains left the meeting enthusiastically volunteering to see their workers personally during the afternoon. The spirit manifested was shown by one of the leading business men coming into headquarters within a couple hours after the session at noon, saying, "that he had secured his men, and in almost the same breath, saying that if business interfered with his part in the organization movement, it would be necessary for him to put business aside."

To Answer Questions.
Interest in the plans to organize a modern chamber of commerce which will represent the entire community is growing. A number of questions have been asked by citizens and visitors at headquarters in such recurring frequency that the organization executive committee has prepared answers. The first is published today. Others will follow this week.

Why should Jacksonville have a modern chamber of commerce? Every city needs an organization of the character of a Chamber of Commerce. Every city needs an organization that will bring men and women together to do things that the city needs to have done.

This getting together stimulates discussion of the problems of the city; it discovers things to do that nobody had ever thought of; it puts a united force behind the individual who would like to have things done but knows he cannot do them alone. Discussion of a city's needs leads naturally to the finding of ways and means of doing things.

This is what is meant by the creation of the spirit of enterprise in a community. A city which has once acquired this spirit will not permit it to die out.

A well-manned, well-planned Chamber of Commerce provides the city with an organization and the machinery to make use of the best thought and energy of the citizens. Every man and woman has a surplus of time and energy which he might give to his or her city.

Yet it is the common experience, to be told when asking the citizens for some service for the common good, that he is too busy with his own affairs.

Results Will Show.
The accomplishments of a well organized Chamber of Commerce will quickly show that man that he is not too busy with his own affairs to give a little time and energy to his community. He will not be long in agreeing with the man who invented the phrase: "Enthusiasm is contagious—let's have an epidemic"—the best kind of an epidemic a city can have. Men working together every day for a common cause cause learn to give.

The accomplishment of a well organized Chamber of Commerce brings immediate and tangible results to a city and its people. The storekeeper, the mill owner, the physician and lawyer, even the newsboy, senses the usefulness of a good Chamber of Commerce; they know it builds up the business of the city by making it a better place to do business in, and it adds to the population by making the city a better place to live in.

Unless the business and professional men of today insure prosperity and advancement of their city a few years hence, their sons and daughters will inevitably go to those cities which offer greater advantages. A well organized Chamber of Commerce is such insurance.

There is a wealthy man in Des Moines who for a long time could see no need for a Chamber of Commerce. After much effort he was induced to become a member. For the past five years he has subscribed $4,000 annually to its maintenance, his reasoning being in his own words:

"I couldn't hire the people of this community to do for my private interests what the Chamber of Commerce is doing, for any such sum as $4,000 a year. Yet, united in the Chamber of Commerce, they have increased the value of my property, provided me with a contented labor supply to draw upon and widened my markets by making Des Moines known as a city of enterprise and progress. My contribution to the income of the Chamber of Commerce is the best investment I ever made."

LATE PETER RANSON LAID TO REST MONDAY

Impressive funeral services for Long Time Morgan County Resident—Interment Made in Diamond Grove Cemetery.

Funeral services in memory of the late Peter Ranson, long time resident of the county, were held at the Point church at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon. The services were of a very impressive character and were in charge of the pastor, Rev. F. E. Brackwell. The church was completely filled with relatives and friends of the deceased, who were paid a last tribute to his memory.

H. A. Little sang as a solo, "When They Ring Those Golden Bells for You and Me" with Miss Evanda Potter as accompanist. Another solo, "Shadows," was sung by Fred Masters with Miss Fannie Masters as accompanist.

There was a great profusion of beautiful flowers and they were in charge of Mrs. Allen Sturdy, Mrs. Albert Potter, Mrs. H. A. Little, Mrs. William Herring, Misses Fern and Evanda Potter.

Interment was in Diamond Grove cemetery, and the pallbearers were John Vasey, Charles Middleton, Herbert Mawson, John Leach, Clarence Ranson and D. F. Coultas.

Obituary.
Peter Ranson, son of James and Sarah Jane Richardson Ranson was born Dec. 28, 1841 and died May 14, 1921, aged 80 years. He was married April 15, 1874 to Miss Frances Mawson and to this union were born Charles E., Frank W., George L., William K., Sarah B., an infant son and Walter R. Ranson. George, Sarah and the infant son preceded him in death. His wife also died in April 1895.

Mr. Ranson was converted to the Christian faith and hope under the ministry of Rev. A. M. Danely in the year 1892, since which time he has lived a truly consistent Christian life, walking always in the footsteps of his Lord.

He united with the Wesley Chapel church and has shown an unflinching love and devotion to his church throughout all the succeeding years. His home life was singularly marked by his devotion to wife and children, esteeming it a privilege rather than a task to plan and toil for their comfort and welfare. As a neighbor he lived beyond reproach. As a citizen he was a man of good judgment in business affairs, just in his dealings with all, liberal in his benevolence, true in his friendship, firm in his faith in God and the right.

PROOFREADERS HELD MEETING LAST NIGHT
Literary Organization in Regular Session at Home of Wayne Gard—Plans Made for Open Meeting May 31.

"The Proofreaders" held a regular meeting Monday evening at the home of Wayne Gard on South East street, with a large number of members present. The subject assigned by the club was "an acoustic on the word 'Proofreaders' and samples were read by Miss Cochran, Miss Mason, Miss McCullough, Miss Alkire and Mrs. Hughes.

Two new members were taken in, Miss Gladys Cochran and Miss Katherine Montgomery. Various matters were given attention and plans for an open meeting were discussed. It was decided to hold an open meeting at the public library on Tuesday, May 31, if the room is available.

The next regular meeting of the club will be held on Monday, June 13, at the home of John Kearns.

The following poem, dedicated to John Kearns, the author of "The Enchanted Thorn," was read by Mrs. Hughes:

When searching for talent you've not far to go,
Nor to England needst roam, but near to your home
Is a singer who sings, or who plays you a tune,
And hearing you think of the rose of June,
Or blossom of cherry, or apple
Or such is the sweetness of story or rhyme,
That a maid or a swain is never forlorn
Who passes and the enchanted thorn;

For the minstrel is there and knows how and when
To make a word picture of women or men,
Or girls with their curls, or boys with their nose,
Or portray in a minute
An old English wood and everything in it,
The cows and the geese,
And the sheep in its fleece,
The king and the queen,
And the glimmer and sheen,
The knight and the light,
The music and all
The dainties of the sweeps and the fairies own ball.

At a touch or a word his fancy is springing
And blends with the music that's in his heart ringing,
Just waiting the feet or the metre for tuning
Whilst he with the rapture of spirits communing
That goddess or muse
And while at their fountains of lore he is drinking
He weaves in fair colors the thoughts he is thinking
And gives to the world by the masters own art
The treasures of beauty which lie in his heart.

—Susie A. Hughes.

GRAIN PURCHASE SUIT ON TRIAL

Jury Selected to Hear Evidence in Action Brought Against McCarthy Elevator Company—Court Order.

The suit of Wilson C. Morrow against the McCarthy Elevator Co. was begun with Judge Jones presiding. This suit was brought because of the disagreement over the price of a quantity of wheat Mr. Morrow sold the elevator. It was the claim of Mr. Morrow that he contracted the wheat at $2.50 per bushel, that he delivered part of it at that price and was ready to deliver the rest but the elevator could not receive it. He maintained that he stored it at his farm and offered to deliver it at various times. However, when it was delivered the elevator did not pay the price originally mentioned, maintaining that the wheat had not been contracted for at that price.

The complainant is represented by Walter W. Wright and the defendant company by J. O. Priest. The jurors hearing the case are W. F. Seymour, Charles Hart, J. R. Souza, Fred Batz, Mathew Wagner, George Tempelin, H. R. Challiner, Grant Ferguson, Fred L. Mount, Frank Byrns, J. E. Curry and E. M. Stewart.

In the partition suit of Owen Rowley et al. vs. Mary Kroeger et al., the answer of all adult defendants was withdrawn and the default of all defendants was noted. The cause was referred to the master.

In the suit of Anton Bergschneider vs. Samuel Starner et al., brought to quiet title, Paul P. Thompson was appointed guardian ad litem for all defendants under legal disability; proof of all adult defendants.

In the suit of John M. Werries vs. John C. Wadsworth et al. to quiet title, Paul D. Morarty was appointed guardian ad litem for all defendants under legal disability; proof of all adult defendants.

HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING NEARING COMPLETION

Placing of Seats in Auditorium is Now in Progress—Room May Be Ready for Commencement Exercises May 27.

The work of installing seats in the auditorium of the new high school building was in progress yesterday and there is a strong probability that the task will be completed in time for the commencement exercises on Friday, May 27. Compressed air drills are used in drilling holes in the floor for the placing of the seats and this constitutes quite a task.

Among other tasks in progress is that of placing locks on the numerous doors. The work of installing the lighting fixtures and the lockers is still to be done and the same is true of a large amount of equipment in various departments.

The cafeteria will occupy a central room on the ground floor and will afford ample quarters for the purpose. In this room there is to be installed a double drinking fountain and other equipment.

Some idea of the task which the plumbers have in equipping this building is given by the following facts: there are 145 separate plumbing fixtures used in the building; 27 wash stands, 31 toilets 12 drinking fountains and various other appliances of modern design.

MISS OLIVE ENGEL IN SENIOR RECITAL

Gives Brilliant Organ Recital in Music Hall Monday Evening—Appreciative Audience is Present.

Miss Olive Engel of the Senior Class of the Illinois Woman's college presented a program of seven numbers arranged in three groups in Music Hall yesterday evening. The program was offered as a proof of Miss Engel's fitness to receive a diploma in organ playing and the proof was ample.

Miss Engel offered fine contrasts in registration in the intricate Sonata by Mendelssohn. Her clear playing and intelligent phrasing brought out the imitations and ornaments of various kinds in which the soul of Mendelssohn delighted, so that none of these devices of the composer was lost.

Her second group offered five smaller numbers in which the audience showed its appreciation by vociferous applause. The Will-O'-the-Wisp by Nevin and the Festival March by Forte made particularly good impressions.

The large lines of the Concert Fantasia by Bird were well drawn bringing a delightful program to a successful close.

Miss Engel has devoted herself to her ideals with rare singleness of purpose and the large number of friends from the city who were present at this recital attests the place that this young woman has made for herself in the community.

The program was one of which any school would be proud and reflected a three fold credit on herself, the school and Director Pearson, her teacher.

NICHOLS PARK

By Bernice Abernathy

The Nichols Park was named after a man called Sam Nichols, who was an old soldier. The Nichols Park is about the best camping grounds we have in Illinois. Every summer people come from other parts of the United States and camp at Nichols Park. Another nice thing about the park is that they always have their Chautauqua there every season. They also have the lake and part of it is used for swimming, and if you like you can take or rent a boat for a small sum of money and take a boat ride over the lake. They also have a dancing pavilion and in the summer time they have dances about twice a week. They have a large floor and a good orchestra with good music.

There is a bridge extending over the lake into a large playground. They have most everything to play on that you could think of. They have small swings and other playthings for the little children and large swinging ladders for the larger boys and girls.

Every summer Mr. Nichols gives a burgoon for the schoolchildren. All the children from the school go and get all the burgoon they can eat free of charge. THERE is a big difference between Calumet and all other Baking Powders.

First—you see it in the cost. Calumet is sold at a moderate price.

Then—you observe it in use. Calumet has more than the usual leavening strength, therefore less is required.

Next—you notice it in raising quality—in the evenness, lightness and texture of your bakings. They look better—finer grained.

"S-o-m-e Biscuit!"

CALUMET BAKING POWDER

Finally—what a difference in the taste. There is a deliciousness, a goodness that can be had in no other manner. Biscuits, pies, cakes, muffins, doughnuts—never were so tasty—so all-satisfying.

And then there is the satisfaction of knowing that Calumet is made in the World's largest, best equipped and cleanest Baking Powder Factories.

Pound can of Calumet contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. instead of 16 oz. cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

Calumet Biscuit Recipe:
4 cups of sifted pastry flour, level teaspoon Calumet Baking Powder, 1 level teaspoon of salt, 2 rounding table spoons of butter or lard, ½ cup milk, ¾ cup water. Then in the regular way.

LEADERS PROVE TO BE EASY PREY FOR INDEES

Decatur Team Overwhelmed by Score of 21 to 2 — Game was Only Fair Bating Practice for Locals.

The Decatur Leaders proved easy prey for the Indians at South Side park Sunday afternoon. The visitors may be leaders in Decatur but they would be bringing up the rear in Jacksonville insofar as baseball is concerned.

When the final curtain went down the score was 21 to 2 in favor of the Indians. In fact it was hardly good batting practice for the locals. However, with the aid of the high wind or outs or whatever it is growing in left field the locals gathered three home runs, the ball getting lost in each instance. Ruble got two of these and Christopher the other.

In addition to hitting the ball to all corners of the lot the Indians were aided by eleven misplays by the visitors. Cox got four mistakes in five times up and Ruble gathered four in six times and Christopher three in six times. Every regular in the game got one or more.

We might tell you how the teams were made. This would entail a lot of work and perhaps the less said about such a game the better it will be so we hand you the joke in tabulated form.

FABER RESCUES KERR; WINS ANOTHER GAME

Checks Rally and Sox Finally Put Over Winning Run—Makes Faber's Fourth Consecutive Victory.

Chicago, May 16.—Urban Faber replaced Kerr today when Philadelphia threatened, checked the rally and won his fourth consecutive victory when Chicago took the long end of a 5 to 4 game. The Sox took the lead but were tied when a base on balls and Perkins' homer scored two runs. Chicago then went ahead, but Kerr's wildness coupled with a timely hit by C. Walker tied the count again. Falk's double, a sacrifice by Strunk and a sacrifice by Sheely, scored the winning run.

CARPENTIER IS CONFIDENT OF WINNING FIGHT

Wants to Know if There Are Any More Fighters if He Wins

New York, May 16.—Confident of victory in his coming battle for the world's heavyweight championship, Georges Carpentier, challenger of Jack Dempsey, arrived today to begin training for the international bout. The Frenchman plans to go to his camp tomorrow beginning training Wednesday and keep at it virtually without interruption until it is time for him to enter the ring at Jersey City.

Carpentier had lunch with Tex Rickard, promoter of the bout, immediately after landing. The French boxer's confidence of defeating Dempsey was apparent when he inquired of Rickard if a suitable American challenger would be available within six months after the Jersey City battle. If he won, Rickard assured Carpentier there would be several and Carpentier declared that if he won, he would be glad to return to America to defend the title.

In Excellent Condition

The Frenchman at his usual fighting weight of 175 pounds, said he is in excellent condition. He has been training through the winter. For the first week at Mantes, the work will be comparatively light. After that a more rigorous program will be adopted with Joe Jeannette, the negro heavyweight, directing the staff of sparring partners.

Carpentier was greeted enthusiastically wherever he went today. Several thousand persons waited for hours near the entrance of the steamship pier to greet him. Altho the public will not be permitted. The training quarters of training newspapermen will be admitted. Th eraining quarters of the challenger in one of America's most exclusive summer colonies, will be surrounded by a barbed wire fence.

A 48 acre estate has been leased. It includes a substantial farm house which will shelter the entourage of the boxer and a barn which is being remodelled into a gymnasium. The estate is situated in a secluded section of the island and is considered an ideal spot for training.

SEED CORN—We have had a finest lot of well dried 1920 crop of seed corn that we have ever grown. This corn is gathered in the fall and placed on drying racks when it is very slowly dried down to twelve or fourteen per cent moisture content.
This gives corn a very high vitality. We have been in the seed corn business in a large way for over thirteen years and have the largest and best equipped drying plant in the world. Our down town plant is in the center of Mason City, right on the hard road between Springfield and Peoria. It is well worth a trip to Mason City to see this corn. Price is only $3.50 per bushel. Write for
